IRISH REBELS LAY DOWN ARMS; REPUBLIC LOST

Few Continue Sniping. But Most Surrender to British Troops.

DESOLATION IN DUBLIN SHOWS FIGHT SEVERE

Prisoners Wounded and Suffering, But Hold Up Heads Defiantly.

DUBLIN, April 28.—(UPI)—London, May 1.—(UPI)—The rebels of the Irish republic have surrendered to the British. They laid down their arms at the foot of the Nelson monument in Sackville street and surrendered to British troops. About 450 of them who had fought since Sunday in this central area marched out from their strongholds under the white flag and gave themselves up. It was announced in London that all the rebel leaders have surrendered.

Few Continue Sniping.

A few rebels continued sniping from hills difficult to locate on roads or among tufts of buildings nearby.

Soon afterward a rebel lieutenant, wearing a leather green uniform and carrying a white flag, came in with a guard of ten men from Athlone, county of Meath to learn the truth about rumors of a general surrender. The party marched off to the castle and learned from J. H. Pearce, who was named provisional president of the Irish republic, that the movement had collapsed and was advised to resist no longer.

Parley in County Districts.

The lieutenant and his escort soon started out to parley with the rebels in the country districts in an effort to induce them to lay down their arms.

James Connolly, one of the leaders of the uprising, is still by government of the Irish republic, that the movement had collapsed and was advised to resist no longer.

Desolation is Evident.

A correspondent of the Associated Press visited the entire area of the disturbance Monday. The desolation and destruction showed how severe was the fighting while it lasted.

In the morning the streets were full of citizens who were glad to be out after their long detention in their homes during which they were deprived of food until the authorities made provisions for them.

Down Cork hill and King Edward street, strong guards of troops are still in evidence and every passerby is challenged.

The city hall had been occupied for several days by the rebels and even at this time sniper in houses in the vicinity were shooting at intervals.

Green Uniforms in Jail.

As the correspondents approached the jail a party of more than 50 captured members of the Sinn Fein marched by under escort toward Richmond jail where more than 400 are now in jail. Many were in green uniforms. One was the uniform of the Irish volunteers and others were in civilian clothes. Numbers of them were wounded and suffering but most of them held up their heads defiantly.

The soldiers escorting them were men who had fought all through the uprising and were even more bitter against their rebellious fellow countrymen than the troops brought over from England. This feeling seems to be shared by most of the population of Dublin.

Many Buildings Battered.

Great damage was done in Sackville street and adjacent thoroughfares.

Only a few windows and window frames of some houses remain. Along the east side of Sackville street, the buildings are battered beyond recognition. The protective is a smouldering framework.

Buildings of slate tiles were being carried away in groups by soldiers. Many of them had been shot several times.

When the authorities gave orders that the people were to be allowed to enter the streets some of the poor began looting. This was stopped at 2 o'clock when the troops cleared the streets again and arrested everyone who did not move promptly.

Proclaims Irish State.

In the debris was found a proclamation issued in the name of the president of the provisional government, the text of which follows:

"The provisional government is the citizens of Dublin."

The provisional government of the Irish republic salutes the citizens of Dublin on the momentous occasion of the proclamation of a sovereign, independent Irish state, now in course of being established by Irishmen in arms. Republican forces now hold the lines taken up at 12 noon Easter Monday and nowhere, despite the fires and almost continuous attacks of the British troops have the lines been broken through.

The O'Reilly a Prisoner.

General Maxwell, the British commander announced that the O'Reilly is among the prisoners. He also stated reports from the county district showed that everywhere quiet was being restored and that the rebels were coming in by groups to surrender.

A manifesto has been sent out advising the rebels of the failure of the uprising. The opinion prevails on every hand that the attempt at the formation of a republic has been abortive.

The fate of the prisoners is now in the hands of the government which possesses very wide powers under martial law. Helpers who remain recalcitrant in all probability will be dealt with very severely.

GERMAN LOSSES HEAVY IN NEW VERDUN DRIVE

Teutons Meet Repulse in Violent Attack Near Dead
Man's Hill.

BERLIN, May 1.—(UPI)—wireless to The Associated Press via Salonic.—It is reported from Salonic that a German submarine has torpedoed a large transport.

It said the transport was torpedoed off Karamanou, ten miles east of Salonic.

This is the second instance in which a transport is reported to have been torpedoed near Salonic. The report is contained in a dispatch from Zurich which credits this news to the Greek newspaper Neo Athina of Salonic.

VERDUN ATTACK RENEWED.

LYNDON, May 1.—Germany's cause must not be decided by temporary tactical advantages but rather by the exit-godess of the entire situation, military and naval," declares Dr. Hermann Dernburg, former secretary for the colonies in a lengthy editorial in the Tagblatt entitled "Germany and America."

Dr. Dernburg's editorial is distinctly friendly, conciliatory and hopeful. He concludes: "It is to be hoped that an understanding will be reached which will conserve our national dignity and whereby we may retain our relations with the United States without having to lessen the force of our activity."

New Efforts Impending.

Indications that further German efforts are impending furnished by an announcement that Hill 294, west of the Meuse and positions in the Vaux sector, northeast of Verdun, are being bombarded.

Official advice from Constantinople says that the Teutons estimate 40,000 between the forces of the British during March and April in Mesopotamia. More than 50 British and Indian officers, including four generals were taken at Kuti Amara where General Townshend surrendered.

Striation Unchanged.

The German war office reports the Verdun situation unchanged. Statement is made that vigorous fighting continued yesterday near Dead Man's Hill.

TWO OF POSSE SLAIN
BY HORSE THIEVES

FOOT COLLINS, Colo., May 1.—Frank Beach, sheriff of Cheyenne, Wyo., and Nels Nelson, a rancher, were shot and killed northwest of Box Elder, Col., early Monday while heading a posse hunting horse thieves. The thieves escaped. Beach and Nelson had watched the camp of the thieves all night planning to rush at dawn.

100 WITNESSES AT SAPPS' TRIAL

BEAUMONT, Texas, May 1.—About one hundred witnesses left Monday for Lufkin for the trial of E. E. and Tom Lufkin, charged by indictment with the murder of Richard Wain in Hardin county Jan. 1, 1915, which began in Mineral Wells, Texas.

According to the state's contention the Wain killing was the second of a series of three murders committed by the Sapp brothers.

After a serious illness, Reeh improved and was able to work as deputy sheriff. He went to Mineral Wells about a week ago in the hope that he would completely recover.

Reeh was a member of the Oklahoma City Masonic order, Lodge No. 36, A. F. and A. M. He was the thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner. Pending instructions from members of his family, funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Former Undersheriff Traveling for Health, Expires on Town's Street.

John E. Reeh, undersheriff and deputy under Sheriff Binion for the past three and one-half years and an officer in Oklahoma county for more than twenty years, dropped dead Sunday night in Mineral Wells, Texas, according to information received at the sheriff's office Monday morning. Death came to Reeh, it is said, while he was walking along a street of the Texas city. Ranch Captain, county jailor, who accompanied Reeh, telephoned Sheriff Binion that Reeh was feeling well and in good spirits Sunday night.

Reeh had been an officer since the early days. He had acted as sergeant at the police station, constable, policeman, deputy sheriff and undersheriff. When M. C. Binion went into the sheriff's office he appointed Reeh as his undersheriff, which office he held until about two months ago, when protracted illness forced him to give it up.

After a serious illness, Reeh improved and was able to work as deputy sheriff. He went to Mineral Wells about a week ago in the hope that he would completely recover.

Reeh was a member of the Oklahoma City Masonic order, Lodge No. 36, A. F. and A. M. He was the thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner. Pending instructions from members of his family, funeral arrangements have not been announced.

GASOLINE PRICE
WILL BE PROBED
SOON BY STATE

NEW BILL PROVIDES
ARMY OF 180,000 MEN

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A regular army of 180,000 men at peace strength has practically been agreed on by senate and house conferees on the army bill. With the plans for expansion, as provided in the bill which has passed the senate, this would produce an army of about 250,000 men in war strength. The bill as passed the senate fixed the peace strength at 250,000 men.

Although Oklahoma is the second oil producing state in the union and gasoline is manufactured within her borders in no other place in the country, gasoline has been selling higher in Oklahoma City and other points in the state than in other parts of the country.

On Friday of last week gasoline sold in Kansas City for 18 cents a gallon; in Fort Worth for 20 cents; in Chicago for 21 cents, and the people of Oklahoma City paid 25 cents.

If that condition exists you may rest assured it will be investigated and the price put down to what is just and equitable," said Assistant Attorney General John L. Harlan, when shown a statement made by the president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, concerning the gasoline investigation. After the corporation complained it was asserted that tribunal had no jurisdiction over the subject, but that it was a matter which should be handled by county attorneys and their attorney general under authority conferred upon them by the state anti-trust laws.

The testimony explained that it was not his salary check, but money to pay the rural carriers of the state. The draft was deposited late in the morning in the State National bank and 100 checks written for various amounts, drawn against it.

These will be mailed out this week to every postoffice in the state, not of which rural free delivery routes are run.

$113,600 Draft Is Received by O. C. Postmaster

Award newspaper reporters and other visitors to the office of Postmaster Claude Weaver were allowed Monday morning to touch very tenderly a draft to the treasury of the United States made out to Mr. Weaver in the sum of $113,600.

The reporters explained that it was not his salary check, but money to pay the rural carriers of the state. The draft was deposited late in the morning in the State National bank and 100 checks written for various amounts, drawn against it.

These will be mailed out this week to every postoffice in the state, not of which rural free delivery routes are run.
